

The rise of African finance

African financiers committed nearly eight times as much to the continent's digital sector in 2026 as in 2024, overtaking what African states budget for it themselves.

US$ millions

African and non-African finance: non-state commitments other than aid, by where the financier is from. Aid: grants, concessional loans and technical assistance. National budgets: states' own digital lines. Commitments, not disbursements. * 2026 as recorded to October 2026.
