

Who pays for what in Africa's digital sector

African and non-African financiers back connectivity, data storage and AI. Identity, statistics, registries and e-government fall mostly to states' own budgets.

■ National budgets
 ■ African finance
 ■ Non-African finance
 ■ Aid

Topics receiving more than US$500 million are shown. African and non-African finance: non-state commitments other than aid, by where the financier is from. Aid: grants, concessional loans and technical assistance. National budgets: states' own digital lines. Commitments, not disbursements. 2024 to 2026, as recorded to October 2026.

Source: Data Landscapers, All finance table

data-landscapers.io