MICROSOFT CLOUD AND AI INVESTMENT COMMITMENT

- Microsoft South Africa highlights six dimensions of digital sovereignty for AI Era — Tech Review Africa, 24 September 2026

  At a GovTech breakfast for senior officials, Microsoft South Africa set out six dimensions of digital sovereignty: data, control, operational, AI, resilience and assurance. It presented sovereignty as a range of controls set by workload and regulatory risk rather than a yes-or-no choice, and pointed to its two Azure regions in South Africa.

Zambia

UNITED STATES HEALTH FINANCING MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

- Zambia Ready To Sign US$1.5 Billion US Health Deal After Specimen-Sharing Clause Is Dropped — Lusaka Times, 6 October 2026

> Zambia's health minister said the five-year health memorandum with the United States is finalised and due for signature this week, after negotiators removed a clause requiring Zambia to share specimens from its disease-surveillance system. The revised text also addresses health data, intellectual property and benefit sharing; this account puts US funding at US$1.5 billion over five years, tapering annually, and an opposition party wants the final text published before signing.

- Zambia, US finalise $3.6 billion health deal after public outcry over contentious clauses — Zambia Monitor, 6 October 2026

  A second account of the Zambian health minister's briefing puts the money to be mobilised for the sector at US$3.6 billion and gives Thursday as the signing day. The minister said the contested clauses on data protection, intellectual property, benefit sharing and specimens have all been reviewed, and that the specimen-sharing obligation is gone entirely.

- U.S., Zambia sign $2.49-billion health financing pact after removing data and specimen-sharing terms — Los Angeles Times, 8 October 2026

  Zambia and the United States signed their five-year health financing memorandum in Lusaka after clauses on specimen sharing and patient data were removed. The State Department put it at US$2.49 billion, US$1.52 billion from the United States and US$975 million from Zambia, and Zambia said minerals were not part of it.

Zimbabwe

> BILATERAL HEALTH COOPERATION MEMORANDUM

- A data-sharing clause derailed US-Zimbabwe health talks. Now all funding ends this month — The Independent (AP wire, by Farai Mutsaka), 25 September 2026

  The US Embassy in Harare said on 25 September 2026 that US funding for Zimbabwe's health programmes ends at the end of September, after Zimbabwe declined a bilateral health memorandum. Zimbabwe objected in part to a requirement to share sensitive health data, including virus samples. Ambassador Pamela Tremont said relations would shift to trade and investment.
